Article 4, Part 4, Section 160 Standard Review Questions:

Provide written documentation addressing each of the standards listed below:

1. Existing uses and zoning of nearby property;
Nearby properties consist primarily of single-family residential homes on rural parcels along Highway 20. Surrounding properties are predominantly zoned A-1 (Agricultural). A commercial (M-1) property associated with a logging/forestry business is located across the road. Overall, the surrounding land uses remain primarily residential in character.

2. The extent to which property values are diminished by the particular zoning restrictions;
The current A-1 Agricultural zoning requires a larger minimum lot size for residential development, which limits the ability to create a one-acre residential lot on the property. Rezoning to R-1 would allow reasonable residential use of land consistent with surrounding development and would not negatively impact nearby property values.

3. The extent to which the destruction of property values of the plaintiffs promotes the health, safety, morals or general welfare of the public;
The current zoning restrictions do not significantly promote public health, safety, morals, or general welfare in a manner that outweighs the reasonable residential use of the property. Rezoning to R-1 to allow a single-family residence would be consistent with surrounding development and would not negatively affect the health, safety, or welfare of the public.

4. The relative gain to the public, as compared to the hardship imposed upon the individual property owner;
The public gain from maintaining the current A-1 zoning on this parcel is minimal, the surrounding area is already primarily residential in character. The current zoning creates a hardship by limiting the ability to establish a one-acre resident lot for a single-family home. Rezoning to R1 would allow reasonable use of the property while remaining consistent with surrounding land uses and would not adversely affect the public interest.

5. The suitability of the subject property for the zoned purposes; and

While the property is currently zoned A-1 Agricultural, the surrounding area is primarily developed with single-family residential homes. Due to its location along Highway 20 and the existing residential character of nearby properties, the subject property is suitable for residential use. Rezoning to R-1 would allow development consistent with the surrounding area.

6. The length of time the property has been vacant as zoned, considered in the context of land development in the area in the vicinity of the property

The property has not remained vacant, as it currently contains an existing single-family residence. The surrounding area along Highway 20 has developed primarily with residential uses on rural parcels. The requested rezoning would allow reasonable residential development consistent with the ongoing development pattern in the vicinity.

RE: Rezoning Request – 6327 Highway 20, Loganville, GA 30052

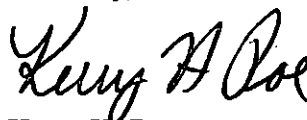

To Whom It May Concern,

This letter serves as a request to rezone the property located at 6327 Highway 20 in Loganville, Georgia from A-1 (Agricultural) to R-1 (Single-Family Residential). The purpose of this request is to allow the creation of a one-acre residential lot and the construction of a single-family home. The surrounding area along Highway 20 is primarily developed with single-family residences on rural parcels, and the requested rezoning would be consistent with the existing residential character of the area.

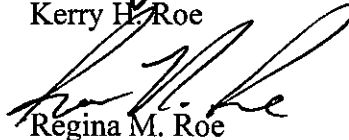

The proposed use of the property is limited to a single-family residence and customary residential accessory uses. No commercial or higher-density development is proposed. This request is intended to allow reasonable residential use of the property while remaining compatible with surrounding land uses and development patterns.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Kerry H. Roe
