Article 4, Part 4, Section 160 Standard Review Questions :

Provide written documentation addressing each of the standards listed below:

1. Existing uses and Zoning of nearby property:

The areas in and around the subject property are rural residential and farm and is predominately zoned A1. The size of the parcels in the area ranges from 0.58 acres, (Parcel CO850036) to 63.13 acres (parcel CO840055BOO). Parcels are a wide variety of sizes and shapes with many apparent small parcels sectioned off from larger parent tracts.

2. The extent to which property values are diminished by the particular zoning restrictions

A1 zoning is generally restricted to residential lots of 2 acres or more and A2 zoning is distinguished by a minimum lot size of 1.5 acres. In this zoning case, the applicant wishes to preserve as much of the parent tract as possible, while allowing a sizable, buildable tract for his children. There are existing tracts of less than 1.5 acres in the area that are "grandfathered" in with an A2 zoning. There is no apparent diminution in value with the zoning restrictions, just a restriction that without the change, the children won't be allowed to build there.

3. The extent to which the destruction of property values of the plaintiffs promotes the health safety, morals or general welfare of the public.

By approving the requested zoning change will allow two family members to build homes adjacent to their parents. Disallowing the approved changes promotes nothing to improve the safety, morals or general welfare of the public.

4. The relative gain to the public as compared to the hardship imposed upon the individual property owner.

The relative gain to the public as a result of allowing this change would be relatively small, as the addition of two households in Walton county where there are now 295 persons per square mile would be insignificant. The proposed residents already live in the County and are constantly visiting their parents. By disallowing the proposed change, the proposed residents will have to look elsewhere for affordable housing which is already difficult for those under 40.

5. The suitability of the subject property for zoned purposes:

The property is ideal for the intend use which is rural estate residential for two homesites. The homesites are generally level, have adequate road frontage and site distance. Both sites have been evaluated by a soil scientist with positive results.

6. The length of time the property has been vacant as zoned, considered in the context of land development in the area in the vicinity of the property.

The land area encompassing the two proposed parcels has been vacant for a number of years. In the context of land development in the area, small parcels are consistently being divided throughout the Fannie Thompson Road area.

Re: Letter of Intent to Request Zoning Change

Greetings:

I am writing to formally request a zoning change for two proposed parcels on my property located at 2940 Fannie Thompson Road. I am requesting rezoning from A1 to A2 for two proposed parcels on my property as shown on the attached drawings. Each of the proposed parcels contains just over 1.5 acres of land.

Currently the parent tract consists of 14.97 acres of land, a main residence and two outbuildings.

The purpose of this requested rezoning is to allow the two parcels to provide our son and daughter with a homesite on which to establish a permanent home and keep the family in proximity.

A licensed soil scientist has completed soil investigations on each site, and the positive results are included in this package.

I have enclosed a completed application, copy of recorded deed and plat, campaign letter and other required documentation,

Sincerely,

Sunil (Neil) Rampersad
