

Dan Meyer

From: Flock <security@flocksafety.com>
Sent: Friday, September 25, 2026 9:01 AM
To: Dan Meyer
Subject: Notice of Security Incident Involving Device Location Data

You don't often get email from security@flocksafety.com. Learn why this is important

We are writing to inform you of the following security incident: On Tuesday, Sept. 22, 2026, a malicious actor published a website with location data of customer devices, accurate as of December 2025, that included device name, location, and device type. This data was unlawfully accessed and exfiltrated from a third party map service. No LPR images, video footage, or CJIS data were exposed.

The person in question originally reported an exposed map access key to Flock's Security Team in November 2025. Flock validated the finding, eliminated the vulnerability, and closed the issue in December 2025. At the time, there was no indication of unauthorized access to data.

Based on the recent publication, it is now apparent that the individual exploited the reported vulnerability in late 2025 to both unlawfully access and unlawfully retain data.

Flock has notified law enforcement. We are also taking all available measures to ensure the offending website is taken down. We will provide you material updates as we have them.

There is no action you need to take at this time. If you have questions please reach out to security@flocksafety.com.

Flock

3284 Northside Parkway NW, Suite 150
Atlanta, Georgia 30327, United States

This email was sent to dmeyer@whitewater-wi.gov.

This email is an advertisement. This communication may include content that has been initially drafted or generated using artificial intelligence. All final content and imagery is reviewed and approved by two humans to ensure accuracy and quality.

Copyright © 2026 Flock. All rights reserved.

Unsubscribe | Privacy Policy