(Please describe your design concept, including inspiration, themes, and how it reflects the City of Whitewater.)

I have some wonderful memories of the old Starin Park. That slide so high it touched the sky! And ooh it burned your butt! That crazy merry-go-round we would stand on, and get it swinging back and forth. It made so much noise!! And the teeter-totter that your brother would climb off off when you were at the top? Down you go! → cont.

Description continued -

Every year we looked forward to the carnival coming to town. Things were so different then. Life was so much simpler. And of course there were the fireworks! The hill filled with people oooing and ahhhing. Whole families gathered together. That's the Starin Park of my childhood 1963-1970
