

MAYOR SHAWN O'NEIL'S APRIL 20, 2026
STATE OF THE CITY ADDRESS – TELEPROMPTER

Good evening and thank you for being here tonight.

(slide 1)

[LOOK UP] [PAUSE]

It is my honor to stand before you once again as your mayor to deliver the State of the City address.

[PAUSE]

Before I begin, I want to recognize several elected leaders who have joined us tonight —

[LOOK LEFT / CENTER / RIGHT]

(slide 2)

- First our City Council, Council President Carolyn Berry, Councilor Adam Cunningham, Councilor Anne Shevlin, and Councilor Sam Scull.
- (former Wilsonville mayors/councilors?)

(slide 3)

- State Senator Courtney Neron-Misslin.
 - State Representative Sue Rieke Smith.
 - Metro Councilor Garret Rosenthal
- (• Note: Name anyone else identified by Staff)

[PAUSE]

Thank you all for your service to our community, region, and the State of Oregon.

[PAUSE]

(slide 4)

This month, we welcomed Jeanna Troha as our new City Manager. Our Council is fortunate to have selected someone with Jeanna's depth of experience and commitment to community-centered leadership. She brings a thoughtful and steady approach to this work, balancing long-term vision with the day-to-day responsibilities of running a city. She has long demonstrated the ability to listen, to build relationships, and to work collaboratively.

[SLOW DOWN]

I look forward to her work with this Council, City staff, and the community as we build Wilsonville's future together.

[LOOK UP] [PAUSE]

(slide 5)

I also want to recognize our City Attorney, Amanda Guile-Hinman.

[PAUSE]

Amanda plays a critical role in the work we do as a Council and for the City at large. She provides guidance in difficult moments, helps us navigate complex decisions, and does so with professionalism, integrity, and a steady hand. I deeply respect her judgment and her commitment to this community, and we are fortunate to have her serving Wilsonville.

[PAUSE]

(slide 6)

Thank you to Jeanna, Amanda, and every member of our City staff who make this city work every day. Naming everyone would keep us here all evening, but please know how much your work means to me, this Council, and our community.

[LOOK UP] [PAUSE]

I also want to recognize members of our boards and commissions, and the many volunteers who serve in ways both large and small throughout Wilsonville.

Your leadership, your service, and your commitment matter deeply. Thank you.

[PAUSE]

(slide 8)

Finally, I want to thank my family.

[SLOW]

Public service is not something you do alone—it asks a lot of the people who stand beside you every day.

There are long nights, missed time, and moments when the weight of decisions follows you home.

Through it all, my family has been there—supporting me, grounding me, and reminding me why this work matters.

[LONG PAUSE]

I love you, and I am deeply grateful for everything you give so I can do this work.

[LONG PAUSE – LOOK UP]

Last year, when I delivered my first State of the City as mayor, I spoke about BELONGING and my belief that Wilsonville should be a place where every person matters, where every family can build a life, and where every resident feels this community is truly theirs.

[PAUSE-LOOK UP]

It's a simple, yet powerful idea that I believe deeply.

Because when people feel they belong, a community becomes more than a place to live — it becomes HOME.

[PAUSE]

And when a place feels like home, people begin thinking about something even more important — the future they want to build together.

[PAUSE]

(slide 10)

The future WE ARE ALL BUILDING TOGETHER.

And the future we will one day hand to the next generation.

We must ask ourselves:

What kind of community will we leave to our children and grandchildren?

[LONG PAUSE-LOOK AROUND THE ROOM]

Answering this question requires us to step back and look at the everyday moments that define our lives here.

[PAUSE]

(slide 11)

The best way to understand Wilsonville is not through a report or a budget document, but by walking through our community.

That is something I do nearly every morning with my dog, Curious George.

Those walks — through our neighborhoods, parks, and public spaces remind me what we are so fortunate to have — a place where people build rich lives, raising their children, looking out for one another, and where our Seniors are honored and respected.

[PAUSE]

Wilsonville's spirit reveals itself through observing simple moments.

A child riding their bike to school ...

Or a family gathering in Memorial Park, the crown jewel of our fabulous park system.

[PAUSE]

Over the past several years, our investments in Memorial Park have continued to build on what makes it so special — from the nature play area and expanded skate park, to the dog park, community and pollinator gardens, new restrooms, and field lighting — with new play equipment near the sports fields on the way.

Last year, staff expanded the park's disc golf course, now one of the top courses in the region.

[PAUSE]

(slide 13)

Our dedicated parks team got creative to make that project happen. This short video details their award-winning collaboration with the disc golf community.

[VIDEO – Disc Golf / Memorial Park]

[LOOK UP AFTER VIDEO] [PAUSE]

(slide 14)

Memorial Park and all that it has to offer is an example of how a community's vision, staff dedication, and the collaboration that followed delivered a wonderful outcome.

Our investment in our park system is a great representation of our VALUES.

[PAUSE]

(slide 15)

So, too, is our emphasis on community events ... from long-established events like the Easter Egg Hunt ... Party in the Park, the Annual Christmas Tree Lighting, and Harvest Festival to new celebrations like the Second Annual "Light Up Wilsonville" Menorah lighting, Los Posadas, Pride, Juneteenth, Lunar New Year, Celebration of India, and Ramadan Potluck.

We seek active, enriching lives; we honor families in all their forms, we embrace togetherness and tradition; we celebrate important occasions, —we rely on each other.

[PAUSE]

(slide 16)

One more example of our values is our library — a place that means a great deal to many families, including my own.

Last month a new four-wall mural was painted in the children's room.

This wonderful project -- funded by the Wilsonville Public Library Foundation and directed by our Arts, Culture, and Heritage Commission and staff -- demonstrates the power of collaboration and community involvement. The result is wonderful.

[VIDEO-Library Mural]

[LOOK UP AFTER VIDEO] [PAUSE]

(slide 18)

Strong community does not happen on its own.

It requires people willing to step forward and take responsibility for what comes next.

[PAUSE]

(slide 19)

Local Leadership matters.

(LOOK UP AND AROUND THE ROOM)

But it is not just about the Mayor, or members of City Council — it is about the community leaders we have had over the decades who have given their heart and soul to this community in so many ways.

Those in community organizations, such as the Rotary Club, our nonprofits like Wilsonville Community Sharing and Heart of the City, our local businesses, religious institutions, parent groups, and so many others.

Many of these leaders—those current, and those who have passed—many of them quiet, unsung heroes—have continuously stepped up and made this community a better place, not only for the Wilsonville we have now, but for the vision of the community that we will leave for future generations.

Because leadership at every level of our community matters.

[PAUSE]

As President John F. Kennedy once said:

“Our task in our time and in our generation is to hand down undiminished to those who come after us the rich heritage we have inherited.”

[PAUSE]

That’s a big responsibility that requires thoughtful decisions about our future.

The decisions we make together today will shape Wilsonville for decades to come.

[PAUSE]

(slide 20)

Thoughtful leadership means investing in infrastructure that keeps our city strong.

It means improving our local roads and transportation systems.

It means strengthening and preserving water and stormwater systems so the next generation does not inherit problems we chose to ignore.

(PAUSE-LOOK UP AND AROUND THE ROOM)

It means finding a way to guide our inevitable growth in a manner that allows us to retain our small-town spirit.

Informed, deliberate decision making can ensure that we maintain our high quality of life for the next generation.

[PAUSE]

(slide 21)

Investing in our future has delivered new returns this year.

The reopening of the Boeckman Road Corridor and the Boeckman Bridge connection has improved mobility and safety across our city as the Frog Pond neighborhood comes to life.

[PAUSE]

(slide 22)

We have continued investing in places where families gather, including a new neighborhood park which will be opening in Frog Pond West next to the new primary school.

Our commitment to transportation and pedestrian safety improvements continues.

[PAUSE]

(slide 23)

Last year we were awarded a six-million-dollar competitive grant from the Oregon Department of Transportation to fund the completion of the Boeckman Creek Regional Trail.

When complete, a child growing up in Frog Pond will be able to ride their bike to their high school without setting foot on a high-speed arterial road. THAT is the kind of city our community is BUILDING.

[PAUSE]

(slide 24)

The seismic-resilient new 3-million-gallon Westside Reservoir on Tooze Road protects our most precious asset —WATER—and adds storage capacity to support future growth.

This is what responsible long-range planning looks like: investing in infrastructure that most residents will never see, so it is there when needed.

Our responsibility does not stop at our city limits.

[PAUSE]

(slide 25)

We continue to ADVOCATE for the replacement of the Boone Bridge — one of the most important transportation priorities for our community, our region, and the movement of goods and commerce across our nation.

(slide 26)

That work has required persistence — working with state and federal partners, testifying at the legislature, traveling to D.C., and continuing to make the case that Wilsonville’s future depends on a transportation system that keeps pace with our growth.

Leadership means not just managing today but advocating for what comes next.

(slide 27)

Building a strong city is not only about infrastructure, of course. IT IS ABOUT PEOPLE.

Last year we launched a peer support initiative to help residents struggling with addiction and mental health concerns connect with the help they need.

[PAUSE]

Next month, we’ll celebrate the grand opening of VUELA — the new Transit-Oriented Development at the Wilsonville Transit Center — a project that reflects the compassion of this community and our shared commitment to helping people build stability in their lives.

VUELA provides 121 units of housing for those earning 30–80% of area median income, creates a permanent home for Wilsonville Community Sharing, and creates a welcome center for regional transit users.

[PAUSE]

(slide 29)

What began as an idea brought forward by SMART Director Dwight Brashear and City staff has grown into something more — a reflection of this community's values, and an example of how thoughtful public leadership, grounded in our compassion, can truly change lives.

[VIDEO – VUELA]

[LOOK UP AFTER VIDEO] [PAUSE]

(slide 30)

That is Wilsonville at its best — a community that does not turn away from challenges, but steps forward to meet them.

[PAUSE]

With that being said, many households remain cost-burdened, spending more than they can reasonably afford on housing. Some facing severe financial strain. That reality affects not just our seniors and individual families, but the long-term stability of our workforce, young adults, and our community.

[PAUSE]

(slide 31)

Our Housing Production Strategy was recently adopted to help expand housing access, promote affordability, and encourage diverse housing options.

Meanwhile, the City's first Climate Action Plan ensures that future long-term infrastructure accounts for weather conditions more intense and less predictable than ever.

YES, Wilsonville is moving forward.

Its progress is not happening by accident, but by community leadership, and good planning.

[PAUSE]

(slide 32)

Our local businesses continue to be the backbone of this city — creating jobs, supporting families, and shaping our character.

Our work continues both at home and at the legislature to encourage investment in our Coffee Creek and Basalt Creek Areas.

When we talk about the future of Wilsonville, we are not just talking about growth — we are talking about creating opportunity and stability for the people who live here—our workforce, seniors, and the students and teachers from Oregon Institute of Technology and Clackamas Community College.

Everything we enjoy today is the result of deliberate choices — made by this community, through its elected leaders, and carried forward by the work of our expert, dedicated City staff, all engaged in shaping our future together.

[PAUSE]

Which brings me back to that question that will shape the next fifty years:

(LOOK UP AND AROUND THE ROOM)

(slide 33)

What kind of city do we want Wilsonville to be?

[LONG PAUSE]

Wilsonville deserves a place where families gather, where small businesses can grow and succeed, Where people can walk, connect, and experience the beauty of this community.

But it will not happen on its own. It requires US—as a community—to decide TOGETHER whether we are willing to invest in that future.

[PAUSE]

(slide 34)

The Wilsonville Town Center Plan is not just a planning document — it is an adopted roadmap that reflects years of work, community input, and a SHARED VISION for what the HEART of Wilsonville can become.

(slide 35)

This is about whether Wilsonville will have a TRUE civic center — a place where community life comes together.

If we do not step forward and shape our own future, it will be shaped for us — piece by piece — by absentee landowners and developers, rather than by the shared vision of this community.

(PAUSE-LOOK UP AND AROUND THE ROOM)

Some may wish that Wilsonville could stay exactly as it is.

But the reality is, ALL CITIES CHANGE.

We face a critical decision. Will we shape that change, or allow it to shape us?

[PAUSE]

Just as those who came before us made decisions that shaped the Wilsonville we enjoy today, we now have that same responsibility.

Not just for ourselves. But for the people who will live here long after we are gone.

[PAUSE]

Last summer, this Council directed staff to gather input to better understand what our residents want.

The message WAS CLEAR— there is wide support for a vibrant Town Center.

Residents raised thoughtful questions about building heights, housing density, and what Town Center will look like. The questions we received deserved our consideration.

We heard clearly that the housing numbers created confusion. So we went back to work. We created a task force to examine building heights.

We revisited the Urban Renewal District proposal that was narrowly defeated two years ago.

I believe we have a responsibility to come back with a better, more refined Urban Renewal District plan — and to give residents a new opportunity to consider how we proceed. My goal is to bring that refined proposal before the voters of Wilsonville this November.

That is what this good public process looks like — listening, refining, and returning with something that reflects the values of the entire community.

[PAUSE]

(slide 36)

Urban renewal is not a theory. In Wilsonville, it is a method we have used successfully to help build the city we all enjoy today ... without raising taxes.

Urban Renewal has supported infrastructure, created our parks, provided opportunities for local businesses, and helped guide development in alignment with our values.

Our City has been blessed by many visionary community leaders who helped create the Wilsonville we have today.

[PAUSE]

(slide 37)

Now that responsibility passes to US. To look beyond our current lives and needs to determine what's BEST.

It is not just the responsibility of a Council or a Mayor.

It is the responsibility of ALL OF US.

Let's be a community willing to lead.

A community willing to think beyond today.

A community willing to invest in the future for people they may never meet.

[PAUSE]

As Theodore Roosevelt once said:

“We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children.”

[PAUSE]

We must ask ourselves: when our children are ready to build lives of their own, will they choose to stay here?

[LONG PAUSE]

Because in the end, the measure of our work as a community is not just what we build today, but whether the next generation sees a future for themselves in Wilsonville.

—That they BELONG.

[PAUSE]

If we lead with compassion and integrity...

If we listen...

If we remain TRUE to the next generations...

[PAUSE]

Then one day, they will inherit more than a city.

[PAUSE]

They will inherit a HOME — shaped by a compassionate community that believes in their generation, and in the generations that will follow.

[LONG PAUSE]

Thank you for being part of the Wilsonville story.

(slide 38)

And THANK YOU for helping build a bright future for our city.
