

heARTs of Wilsonville:

Many Cultures, One Heart
Public Art Project

OPENING RECEPTION

Wed. April 30th | 5 pm - 7 pm | Stein-Boozier Barn

This exciting public art project consists of ten large (4.5 ft X 4.5 ft) fiberglass heart sculptures that will be painted by local artists and installed throughout the City. The project theme, "Many Cultures, One Heart" aims to represent the distinctive artistic, cultural, and historical framework that makes Wilsonville a wonderful place. All ten hearts will be on display at the Stein Boozier-Barn for the opening reception event. This Public Art Project was made possible by the City of Wilsonville's Arts, Culture, and Heritage Commission and funded by Wilsonville-Metro Community Enhancement funds.
