Staff are busy preparing for our annual summer reading program that will kick-off Friday May 29th at Patterson Park, for a community-wide event. We will have food trucks, vendors, Big Foot Foam, and art stations run by staff and volunteers. We will be helping families get signed up for our summer reading program that runs through June and July and assisting them with library cards if they do not already have one. This is a fun, family-friendly community event that truly reminds our residents about what makes Wolfforth so special.

On April 4th, Taylor partnered with Goodline Public House to host a pop-up storytime during their first-ever Easter event. The storytime took place following the community egg hunt, and we were excited to see a large number of families stick around so they wouldn't miss it. Attendance exceeded expectations for both organizations, especially for a first-time event. This partnership created a valuable outreach opportunity for the library. We were able to visit with many families, share information about library services and upcoming programs, and connect with several new community members. Moments like these reinforce how important it is to bring library services into the community and meet people where they are. Overall, the event was very well received and provided great visibility for the library. We're grateful for the opportunity to partner with Goodline Public House and hope to continue collaborating on future community events.
